Five ponies entered and started well, but Cruiser took the lead, which however he could not maintain, and at the half mile Cruiser was last, with Mestizo first. Veteran, a good King-made an effort and took second place in the straight, but could not overhaul Veteran, who had passed Mestizo. Wallaby was third.

WOMEN AS LAWYERS.

The Virginia Senate has passed its third reading a bill to license women to practice law.
A lady of Danville, Mrs. Annie Smith, whose husband is a lawyer and who desires to enter into the practice herself, has secured the introduction of the measure. Her petition to the Legislature was made in rhyme, and reads as follows:—

Sirs, 'tis with timid steps I come
To beg your kind attention,
While speaking on a few small points
I much desire to mention.
E'en Sheba's queen felt not more awed
By Solomon's famed glory
Than I, impressed by wisdom great,
And thus I stand before you.

But since the reason I am here
Is that I am justice seeking,
And knowing here are noble minds
I am made bold in speaking.
'Twas I who lately at your door
Rapped gently, and in wonder
Sighed listening as your halls sent back Reverberating thunder.

For I had only sought to gain,
Both for myself and others,
The privilege to practice law
If minded, with our brothers.
And as I paused such echoes came
As these back to my hearing.
To which I make a brief reply
As to a close I'm nearing.

"There are too many lawyers now."
Well, then, who will prohibit Most of that ranting, numerous sort
Who save men from the gibbet?
And if the field is over-gleaned
To not appear a humbug,
Why not debate in future time
All men as well as women?

Or since, as Daniel Webster said,
"There's still room at the top," sirs,
Let woman bid her step, sirs,
And no man bid her proper sphere,
No man, as I opine it,
Has right to choose it for her,
Should seek to define it.

Last let me beg, most honored sirs,
That you receive conviction,
Think how unjust 'tis to impose
On woman this restriction!
Remove it, pray, 'tis in your power.
Let God with gifts of nature
Decide what sphere she'll occupy
And not the Legislature.

With great respect, ANNIE SMITH

TION TREATY.

The Standard has a long record of past good services to refer to: its Funds, annually increasing, amount to £6,000,000; and all modern features consistent with safety have been adopted.
